To Whom It May Concern

It gives me great pleasure to recommend to you Ms. Nili Mendelsohn as a Hebrew teacher. Nili taught modern Hebrew at our department in Jewish History and Culture at the University of Munich from 2007 to 2009. Our students were unanimous in their opinion that Nili was an outstanding and dedicated teacher. She came to us highly recommended and lived more than up to our expectations. She was also a most pleasant colleague.

Nili had to teach about 14 hours a week and taught all levels of Hebrew. She also conducted classes on temporary issues of Israeli society. In every single case, her evaluations were excellent.

While I was happy to hear that Nili found her lifetime partner and decided to return to Israel, I was sad to let her go as our Hebrew teacher. Had she stayed she would have received tenure in her position.

I wish her all the best and can recommend her most enthusiastically.
Sincerely,

Michael Brenner
